For years, Yemen has been facing conflicts that caused a massive lack of basic human needs. Many families have lost their support due to the rising death toll, and many continue to suffer because of the ongoing war. According to the United Nations OCHA, 14.3 million people are one step away from starvation.

In the face of this urgent humanitarian crisis, Pure Hands, with the support of generous and kind donors, has committed its efforts to provide immediate help to the people who need it in Yemen. Pure Hands continues to assist many people in the country. In 2019 alone, Pure Hands delivered food, clean water, and medicine to more than 1 million beneficiaries across Yemen. Your support and generosity made that possible.
